warm milk and ashtrays you're looking like a ghost lying in your bed wondering who you love the most and there are sirens in the morning they seep into your head and I can see myself in the paper on the front page dead Sinners, saints, and accidents come together all at once all your demons get together and try to through a punch but you don't have to kill your baby if you take this little pill I promise you darling you won't go to hell
and I say only what I need and you can love me
quietly
because I've been hiding so your lover won't kill me here we're going uptown and I'm pushing her away neither one of us should drive but I don't want to stay and she's got me by the wing, and we're both falling and I'm gone I said, but I want it bad there's nothing left to say I'm a boy so let me play and she said give it to me give it to me give it to me so I wake up at the hotel by the airport and say that you can love me
I've been hiding
please
forget you know me

forget
cause I've been hiding so your lover
won't kill me
