

You Love Her Coz She's Dead "Nowhere To Run To"

Nowhere to run to

Amber pieces burn a hole
That killing joke you never stole
Teach the weary sell your skull
When minds are dreary skin is old
It transpires to just live on
Heating love and electrons
And that's all I was meant to say
Synapses met and out came delay

World is stretched
We're always growing
Leave the ground with
Heat still glowing
Let it in and save supply
Kinetic power let's learn to fly
Leave to floor with nothing to lose
A way to say we're always new
Keep the wires of mechanism
Bones to save your recognition

The hounds are calling me down to the shore
