"Athens"

Call me a clean break, you told me
I smiled and thought if only, let's just dance 'til it's safe
I can't stay away from that smiling little girl
She hears music in her head and she's alive again

It's true, look west and it's you

I hear it all around me
You'll never be alone

Hide your hands away in a safe place
You're touching the messenger and making him wait You've got a sparkle in your eye like a diamond, but fake
Just polished enough that it gets you away

It's true, look west and it's you.

I hear it all around me
You'll never be alone

Oh I'm with you, I'm alone tonight
