Did it hurt you to leave it as it stands?
We all want happiness and love,
And we get sad when it doesn't come
But it's the holiday, Christmas makes everything fun
Oh, growing up we trusted everything enough

We raised enough to fly your mom and sisters in
It would have hurt too much to leave you where you'd been
What was running through your head?
Was it any of your friends?
I know you well enough to know
You would not forget

Oh, when we were young, we trusted everything enough
