Oh, look at where your path has taken us.
Left for dead, and no one to turn to. Thoughts of suicide running through your head;
But can you draw blood from a machine?

Deaf ears and sewn shut eyes; can't see your face, can't hear your cries. The mere sight of you could torture souls,
You've created a new disease

(Chorus)

With you gone we can finally carry on, with our lives,
the way it should have been (2x)

Shots fired at your front, and our knives in your back. I can't believe you still stand.
You were meant to represent, all that is good, oh where did we go wrong.

One, shot to the heart, is all we need

(Chorus)

Mart... Mart Matino?
