Teardrops fall on my floor after crying all day over you There's too many choices to make too many roads to take i don't know what to do anymore I can't find a reason to stay with you What do I do?
I care about you, but there's nothing left to say Because tears are falling from my eyes, because of you You've made me cry so many times, that i'm getting use to the pain and i dont know what to say i dont know what to say but im getting use to the pain ohh the pain too many choices too many roads all i know is that im getting use to the pain ohh use to the pain
