Went looking for love
In all the wrong places
Everything you're searching for
Are just empty promises

Who you, who you are is good enough
Leave all your fears aside
I know the tears you cry so heavy
Cos you know I'm

[Chorus]

I'm knock-knocking, knocking at the door
Tear down these walls and let your heart open
You're more than everything, I don't want nothing
But to tear down these walls and let your heart open

Yeah, ooh, ooh

Don't try be no one else
Cos you're the only one that can be you
And when that all falls apart and it's pulling on your heart
Don't you give up
Cos don't you know that

Who you, who you are is good enough
Leave all your fears aside
I know the tears you cry so heavy
Cos you know I'm

[Chorus]

I'm knock-knocking, knocking at the door
Tear down these walls and let your heart open (Ooh, ooh)
You're more than everything, I don't want nothing
(Everything, ooh)
But to tear down these walls and let your heart open

I'm knock-knocking, knocking at the door (I'm knocking, yeah) Tear down these walls and let your heart open (Let your heart open) You're more than everything, I don't want nothing (Let your heart open)

But to tear down these walls and let your heart open

Oh, ooh, ooh

You're more than this You're more than what you think you are You're more
Yeah

[Chorus]
I'm knock-knocking, knocking at the door
Tear down these walls and let your heart open (Woo!)
You're more than everything,
I don't want nothing (More than everything, yeah)
But to tear down these walls and let your heart open
(Ooh)

I'm knock-knocking, knocking at the door (Yeah, yeah, yeah)
Tear down these walls and let your heart open (Oh)
You're more than everything, I don't want nothing (More than everything)
But to tear down these walls and let your heart open
(I want nothing, yeah, yeah, yeah)

I'm knock-knocking, knocking at the door (I'm knock-knocking)
Tear down these walls and let your heart open
You're more than everything, I don't want nothing
But to tear down these walls and let your heart open
