TA PAIDIA TIS AMYNAS (The Children of Amynas)
By Stavros Xarkhakos from the flim Rembetika

It will be written in history one day.
That he kicked out all the brutes from Athens.
That he kicked out the king
And the senators.
The crooks and the clowns.

And in this defense, with all the officers Benizelos is fighting to.
He's the one who's going to end it.
And every patriot, will bring us equality.

Mother marry who stands on our side,
Show's the path to our new leader.
The hero of the national defense
Who fights and kicks out the enemy.

The national defense chaps threw out the king,
They gave him his sail to go do his own business
To be a glutton,
Along with his foreign family.

Watch swords and scimitars,
Shooting out flames which reach to the skies.
Up there high, at our borders,
The enemies' blood runs like a river.

The national defense got rid of the king.
The national defense cap, brought Venizelos.
The national defense brought freedom.
