"Over My Head"

After the words have all been said
After the songs are sung, I realize, I've only but just begun
Trying to wrap my mind around
Extravagant love come down leaves me undone
Finds me with nothing to say

The reach of Your fame
The power in Your name
Your glory surrounds me
It's over my head, it's over my head

The shame of the cross
For all that it cost
This friendship astounds me
It's over my head, it's over my head
Over, it's over, it's over my head

Unquenchable songs and endless praise
A million tongues poised to sing
Could still not convey
The worth that Your name deserves

Beauty for ashes, joy for pain
Mercy instead of my blame
Ruins me for more
I'm lost in Your presence, Lord

The reach of Your fame
The power in Your name
Your glory surrounds me
It's over my head, it's over my head

The shame of the cross
For all that it cost
This friendship astounds me
It's over my head, it's over my head

Over my head
Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah
Hallelujah

Lost for the words to say
I'm left here in disarray
Waiting for You, waiting on truth
I've thrown reason overboard

Knowing that there's still more
I don't yet believe, I can't even perceive
I can't seem to understand
Can't seem to find my way

It's over my head, it's over my head
Learning this mystery, trust what I cannot see
It's over my head, it's over my head
The wonder of all You've made

Foundations Your hands have laid
Bringing me back to my knees, to my knees
I'm lost for the words to say
Lost for another way

Bringing me back to my knees, to my knees
I'm lost for the words to say
Lost for another way
Ruined for anything other than Your love

I'm desperate to know You, Lord
Desperate for what's in store
Finding my hope in only You, in only You
Take me beyond this door, lead me to something more
Open my heart up for more of You, more of You

I'm lost for the words to say
I'm left here in disarray
Waiting for truth, now I'm waiting on truth
I've thrown reason overboard

Knowing that there's still more
I don't yet believe, I can't yet perceive
I can't seem to understand
Can't seem to find my way
It's over my head, it's over my head

Learning this mystery, trust what I can't conceive
I'm learning this mystery, trust what I can't conceive
It's over my head, it's over my head
Over my head, over my head
