It was a genuine gesture
Because I'm not your master
I gotta live with these thoughts
'Cause you reap what you sow

A home from home, a life support
'Cause I'm going other places
And I'm looking for some aces

It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control

My puzzle's missing pieces
Ya, I'm missing key parts
So I'll hit the reservation
I need a second start

It's my home from home, it's my life support
'Cause I'm going other places
And I'm looking for some aces

It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control

It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
It's just another altercation, well, and I'm losing control
