The experts say and they should know
Divert yourself and never do it alone
The poets post it and frontmen front it
What made you think you were one of them
Who's gonna make it

My message over time will hold its good meaning
If you never contrive what is possible
I do believe

I'm miserable, I've got my mind set
Most of all I think I'm through with it
Because poets post it and frontmen front it
What made you think you were one of them
Who's gonna make it
