well i think i see another side maybe just another light that shines and i look over now thru the door and i still belong to noone else maybe i hold you to blame for all the reasons that that you left and close my eyes til i see your suprise and you're leaving before my time baby won't you change your mind

chorus:
surely don't stay long i'm missing you now it's like i told you i'm over you somehow before i close the door i need to hear you say good bye
baby won't you change your mind i guess that hasn't changed someone maybe nobody else could understand i guess that you believe you are woman and i am someone else's man but just before i see that you leave i want you to hold all the things that you said baby i wish i was dead (chorus)
