Like any other picture flashing by
We see blood and tears
We've been used to it for some time
It is now part of us
Like any of those former made up worlds
The screen is filled with our interpretation
Who will prove this truly is for real
Are we damaged by our fantasy

Out of our range
Outside of our views
Real lives are taken away
As we're here in the seamy side
As we're here behind the soothing screen

Suffering beyond our imagination
It seems far away
Too distant to be real
We think we have been there done that through our pain
We are not too knowing
Not too knowing
Lives are being taken away
Evil arise
Our absence makes it all continue
Continue without our opinion
Continue without our support

Out of our range
Outside of our views
Real lives are taken away
As we're here in the seamy side
As we're here behind the soothing screen

Who'll be there to console the ones who're in desperate need
In need for our help
