This story is not turning out very well
Just listen without hearing my voice
Just my breath against you Your world will turn with you beneath its feet Around in circles until the day we meet

Sorry, I can't hear you
Sorry, the prelude is playing in my ear

Through each and every day I go Wondering when and where
With the chance of circumstance
To put my fingers through your hair

Sorry, I can't hear you
Sorry, the prelude is playing in my ear

When the room gets dark and you can no longer see send my love this far have a little faith in me

when in tears you cry oh! you can't believe just give our love another try
have a little faith in me

See I looked to the horizons Knocking in the back of my head Just wondering what's going on up there And when can I climb up in

Sorry, I can't hear you
Sorry, the prelude is playing in my ear
Sorry, sorry, I'm sorry
