It was empty 'til you came up through the honey
Nothing ever goes as planned
When you're walking and the lights are changing colour
Remember how you held my hand
Remember how you held my hand

There's a fire in your chest I see the flame
They better watch it if they pick a fight
Hold that fire when the day it comes
It always comes you feel you'll never get it right
You're never gonna get it right
You're gonna get it

Hold on
Let it turn around
Spin another way
Hold on
You hit the edge of the, edge of the, edge of the day

Some people want it when you've got it in your pocket
And they leave you when there's nothing left
When you find them, the ones that keep you lifted
Love them cause they keep you out of your head
They keep you out of your head
They keep you steady

Hold on
Let it turn around
Spin another way
Hold on
You hit the edge of the, edge of the, edge of the

Hold on
Let it turn around
Spin another way
Hold on
You hit the edge of the, edge of the, edge of the day

When you're walking and the lights are changing

Remember how I held your hand
Remember how I held your hand
