Your friends hold the lullabies
They watch the way the night lies
Soft sounds, heads like a radio
Hearts wrapped in blankets, laying low
Hearts wrapped in blankets, laying low

You're cold, maybe you just missed the sun
You fall, feeling like its just begun
So far, keeping it together's been enough
Look up, rain is falling, looks like love

Your boy is like a memory
Some sense of touch and a melody
Your girl, she's a renegade
A hurricane that keeps you there, safe
A hurricane that keeps you there, safe

You're cold, maybe you just missed the sun
You fall, feeling like its just begun
So far, keeping it together's been enough

Look up, rain is falling, looks like love

(And still in toil, it takes heart to love the rose
And still in toil, it takes heart to love the rose)

You're cold, maybe you just missed the sun
You fall, feeling like its just begun
So far, keeping it together's been enough
Look up, rain is falling, looks like love

You're cold, maybe you just missed the sun
You fall, feeling like its just begun
So far, keeping it together's been enough
Look up, rain is falling, looks like love

Rain is falling looks like love
Rain is falling looks like love
Rain is falling looks like love
Rain is falling looks like love
