Caught up in too much day to day
Fight another battle, fight another battle

Winter trees so bare without their leaves
Falling in the water, falling in the water

Brake lights align the highway signs
Back along the same road, drive along the same road, back along the same road

Silver breathing while you sleep
Incomplete when you leave

You could be the one, could you be the one
To kill mundane?
You could be the one, could you be the one
That changes everything

Cold bus, hot train, too late again
Fog inside a window, fog inside a window

One memory spins this level head
You whispered it to me you, whispered it to me you, whispered it to me

Silver breathing while you sleep
Incomplete when you leave

You could be the one, could you be the one
To kill mundane?
You could be the one, could you be the one
That changes everything

Silver breathing while you sleep
Incomplete when you leave

You could be the one, could you be the one
To kill mundane?
You could be the one, could you be the one
That changes everything

You could be the one, could you be the one
You could be the one, could you be the one
