7:49

Night train right on time Climb the sea of stairs absinth brandy wine spirits moving in the steam Come partner forest green the rattle of the rails you fall into a dream high clouds in the sky the room goes racing by another sleepless night so you speed into daylight

[chorus]

Here comes another strange town
Here comes another breakdown
And you can run forever
They'll catch you now or never

In the tainted car and then later in the bar you see yourself reflected I wonder who you are The passengers asleep dream of secrets that they keep in the cabin next to you a woman starts to wake

The things you knew all fall away
The things you had all disappear
As if you were never here

Here comes another strange town
Here comes another breakdown
And you can run forever

And when you arrive your not sure if you're alive all the passengers are gone everybody step one station quiet, station still nothing moves, nothing will put your hand up to your face there are things you can't believe

[chorus]
