"I am Evan and this is my heart, I am Amy and this is my heart, I am Chris this is my heart, I am Touque This is my heart."

How the heart bends, and summer she sends a sky that refuses to die
With weeds of the sea that wrap round our knees and a sun too hot to go down

You come around, you come around, you come around, you come around, you come around, you come around,
You come around

How the heart bends, and summer she sends a sky that refuses to die

With weeds of the sea that wrap round our knees, and a sun too hot to go down

You come around, you come around, you come around, you come around, you come around, you come around,
You come around

You come around, you come around, you come around, you come around, you come around, you come around,
You come around
