Some souls get lost forever
Some love will leave you never
I found myself somewhere alone

I thought I did it your way
I left the crooked pathway
But now I broke the happy home

Where did that child come from?
Lost in the sea of song
How did a whole life grow
At the end of a show?

Two lives got lost together
We found the strangest weather
I'll never leave this world alone

You know, I tried my hardest
To keep it out of your wrist
I'll never break this happy home

Where did that child come from?
Lost in the burst of song
How did a whole life grow
At the end of a show?

So I get slow for a while
Over and over and
I see the child, see it smile
Over and over and

Oh, I'll get sly for a while
Over and over and
I see the lie, see it smile
Over and over and

I've got a life for a while
Over and over and
I see the sign of your smile
Over and over and
