I heard you today
That isn't my name
You were fast asleep
Forget what he did
Can I be the kid
For your soul to keep?
Some of us laugh, some us cry
Some of us smoke, some of us lie
But it's all just a way
That we cope with our lives

I've grown to see
The philosophy of my own mistrust
We all have our faults
But mine come in waves
That you turn into rust

Some of us laugh, some us cry
Some of us smoke, some of us lie
But it's all just a way
That we cope with our lives

I've been hanging onto something
You keep laughing, awe inspiring

Some of us laugh, some us cry
Some of us smoke, some of us lie
But it's all just a way
That we cope with our lives.
