Give me a minute, give me some time, give me a second to make up my mind Just wait a moment, I want a chance to think it over You say you can't wait forever, but something holds me back
Between the two of us, we can't decide, just where the answer lies
Chorus:
You know hearts of the world will understand, you know they will Hearts of the world will understand
I feel a pressure I can't resist, intoxicated from the first kiss
Over the limit, your invitations leave me breathless Although I can't wait much longer, something holds me
Between the two of us the tensions rise, this feeling won't subside
My mind is torn between right and wrong, the two extremes and I hate it I won't give in to you, just 'cos you want me too, ooh, life's so complicated Ah but given time I might change my mind, we just have to face it
Between the two of us, we can't decide, just where the
answer lies
(Solo)
won't subside
chorus - you know they will Hearts of the world will understand, hearts of the world will understand (repeats out)
