3000 miles across the sea, are you waiting there for me?
I'm stuck here in this state, so I must communicate
Don't know just where you are, just know that you're too far
There's only one thing I can do

Gonna send my love to you
(Transatlantic)
Beam my message through
Gonna find your frequency
(Transatlantic)
Send it E.S.P.

Through the static in the air, I will transmit that I care
Do you read me loud and clear, yes, that's my heartbeat that you hear
No phone, no radio, the telegram's too slow
I'm going crazy without you

Gonna send my love to you
(Transatlantic)
Beam my message through
Gonna find your frequency
(Transatlantic)
Send it E.S.P.

S.O.S, in distress
Close my eyes for your reply
Do you read me?
Will you reach me?

Transistor tube and microchip
Won't bring me closer to your lips
Send a kiss out through the night
Like a laser beam of light

No underwater train, no supersonic rain
Is fast enough to get to you

Gonna send my love to you
(Transatlantic)

Beam my message through
Gonna find your frequency
(Transatlantic)

Will you, will you read me?
Send my love
(Transatlantic)
I wanna know, do you read me?
