

The Start

"Be Mine"

Visit "Be Mine" on MotoLyrics.com

I tried for so many years
To stay uncomplicated
I guess that's just the way that
Things are and I'm undescended

You were always the last to remember my name
Underestimated the length of me
And my stay
I thought you'd never go away

One day all of this will be mine
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
I won't ever apologise
(Could you say you're sorry?)
Who will be the first in my line?
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
One day all of this will be mine
It will be mine

I tried like hell to lend you
My eyes but all you wanted
To see was me in pieces
Of lead that's all you wanted

I push my way through the crowd
And found a golden ticket
And you, you look like a dog
In heat without a ticket

Cause you were always the last to remember my name
Underestimated the length of me
And my stay
I thought you'd never go away

One day all of this will be mine
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
I won't ever apologise
(Could you say you're sorry?)
Who will be the first in my line?
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
One day all of this will be mine
It will be mine

Cause you were always the last to remember my name
Underestimated the length of me
And my stay
I thought you'd never go away!

One day all of this will be mine
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
I won't ever apologise
(Could you say you're sorry?)
Who will be the first in my line?
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
One day all of this will be mine
It could be mine

One day all of this will be mine
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
I won't ever apologise
(Could you say you're sorry?)
Who will be the first in my line?
(Did you think you'd be the one?)
One day all of this will be mine
It will be mine
It will be mine

Visit The Start page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.