one look at you
and i'm tongue-tied
as you move in time
with the flickering light yeah you're moving with the lights all i can do is is to hold tight
as you move in time
with the flickering lights and follow you endlessly toward the light and ALL of my faculties have been removed and i can't help but to lose myself in you
and i will melt
i will melt
i will melt
i will melt into you
and tonight looks like the world is on fire seven motions, seven signs to spend it with you all i desire
as we move inside for the quickening time c'mon follow me endlessly toward the light and ALL of my faculties have been removed
and i can't help but to lose myself in you
and i will melt
i will melt
i will melt into you
for one look at you
you know i'd pull the stars down
from the sky
you know i'd dash the universe night just to bring you every light
for one look at you
and ALLL of my faculties have been removed
and i can't help but to lose myself in you
and i will melt
i will melt
i will melt into you
for one look at you

you know i'd pull the stars down
i would bring you every light
