(Music: Donalds, Drayton - Lyrics: Donalds)

Every day you wake up thinking
Where you'll will end up the next day
Our week sometimes you live in a black world
Or maybe in a white world
I'd rather the multiracial world - but hey
Living in every situation, makes you stronger
Than you ever believe, ever beleive
Some day - the innovation of life - you'll see
Some day - the difference means everything to me
For I'll be giving everything that you're bargain for
If I don't, I think I'll never walk out my door
Some day, some way

While from the third world
My eyes twinkle a little differently
My smell a little less muggy - for all
That sunshine gives you an air
Of arrogance, happiness and sweetness
In the way you carry yourself
More sexual, sensual, than the average man of the world
Some day - the innovation of life - you'll see
Some day - the difference means everything to me
For I'll be giving everything that you're bargain for
If I don't, I think I'll never walk out my door
Some day, some way

Every minute, every hour gotta show show you
Every minute of the day I wanna take you down
Every minute, every hour gotta show show you
Every minute of the day I wanna take you down -
Someday

Some day - the innovation of life - you'll see
Some day - the difference means everything to me
For I'll be giving everything that you're bargain for
If I don't, I think I'll never walk out my door
Someday, Someday, Someday
Every minute, every hour gotta show show you

Every minute
Someday, Someday, Someday
