Aung San Suu Kyi on house arrest
Another Bhutto assassination
Could've stopped Sarajevo we must confess
But we were planning our next invasion

Where are the leaders of the atomic age?
Is it just another working day?
Said he was coming, he was on his way
But he fell down a hole in the ocean

The levies are full but the river runs dry
The desert takes over the grassland
Space that separates us grows ever wide
Profiteer stokes the division

Something's not right, something is wrong
But the news at eleven no one has told them
If we don't come together it won't be long
These are the wars that face our generation

It's a peculiar situation
When the leaders of the wealthy nation
Don't care for the damage they've done, so Bohemian
Mother Hubbard called for the investigation
But all they know is their retaliation
So they appealed to her dog's thirst
But he tips his hat and he says, "no"

Don't need your world control
And the opinion of the inner elite
Oh don't you know
That we are aching for a part in the chance worth taking
Who's to say
That we are destined just to fall at your feet
I'm here today
And so are we the we the people of the earth rolling round

It's a peculiar situation
When the leaders of the wealthy nations

Don't care for the damage they've done, so Bohemian
Mother Hubbard called for the investigation
But all they know is their retaliation
So they go again to the dogs thirst
But we will not work for your World control

And the opinion of the inner elite
Oh don't you know
That we are aching for a part in the chance worth
taking
Who's to say
That we are destined just to fall at their feet
Gonna end this world control
So that it's rendered to we the people of the earth rolling round
