On behalf of the resistance
And all of our existence
The wanted man
The conquered man

We know not of your borders
But you push us to your corners
This is not your land
This isn't anybody's land

Some will live and some will last
Some will cry out for the past
But my oh my, the answers are falling fast
And I will give if this pain won't last

So from where the sun now stands
I will fight no more forever
How you choose to meet your fate
For I will fight no more forever

The government agent arrivals
Pale chief and his disciples
The crooked tongues
The acid lungs

We know not of your borders
But the world is getting colder
This is not your land
This isn't anybody's land

Some will, some will live and some will last
Some will bleed like 'Looking Glass'
But my oh my, the answers are falling fast
And I will give if this pain won't last

So from where the sun now stands
I will fight no more forever
How you choose to meet your fate
For I will fight no more forever

Where the sun now stands
I will fight no more forever

How you choose to meet your fate
For I will fight no more forever, no

And the sun will set sad and sick
Break these chains, I don't want them no more
And the sun will set sad and sick
Break these chains, I don't want them no more

Break these chains, I don't want them no more
Break these, break these chains

Said, he died with a broken heart
Said, he died of a broken heart
Died of a broken heart
A broken heart
