these are my tides
we fall in line
so anxiously hope the blood will clot

two times i waited
to find a way
two times i woke up
too damn afraid

innocence saves us from sober selfishness work our way to the beacon of light overcome with endorphin rush
glory

only black can stop the song circle of life, line of death.
friendly foe if you're the kind to know

two times i waited
to find a way
too damn afraid

work our way to the beacon of light
glory
