I am all alone
I have nothing to fear
I have been through it all just by living here
Put your hands back down
I don't want to fight
If you judge me now then your mind's not right

Take it out on your own
Don't bring your problems to me
I have had enough
Only fate will see where I go from here
Who I leave behind
Never coming back without peace of mind

This one goes out to you
For me for my future
Not a story told with pictures from the past
Who's taking count who's keeping track
I'm on a roll don't stop me now
I'm pulling through I'm coming out
I'm on my own with no regrets
I'm never wrong but not the best

I am all alone
I have nothing to fear
I have been through it all just by living here
Put your hands back down
I don't want to fight if you judge me now
