A star up in the sky
A poem to the dead
Let this mistake
Bring a vivid crystal to her eye
So drain out my lungs
Before the fluid brings a choke
I cannot inhale the sparkle of your voice

A star up in the sky
A poem to the dead
Let this mistake
Bring a vivid crystal to her eye
So drain out my lungs
Before the fluid brings a choke
I cannot inhale the sparkle of your voice

Let me walk on high wire of rusty nails
While barefoot shedding the flesh of our existence

I don't want anybody to fall

A star up in the sky
A poem to the dead
Let this mistake
Bring a vivid crystal to her eyes
So drain out my lungs
Before the fluid brings a choke
I cannot inhale the sparkle of your voice

Now's the time
Now is the time

...more I try
...more I lose
But today
remember me?

But today
remember me?
But today
Your eyes
Your eyes

They shine

Your eyes

Your eyes
They shine
Your eyes

Your eyes
They shine
Your eyes

Your eyes
They shine
Your eyes

Your eyes

Your eyes
They shine
Your eyes

Walking home
Street lights go out

Walking home
Street lights go out

A star up in the sky
A poem to the dead
Bring a vivid crystal to her eyes
So drain out my lungs
Before the fluid brings a choke
I cannot inhale the sparkle of your voice
