Scratching our memories off my wall
If you don't catch me
I'm going to fall
Drowning in my own tears
Too scared of my, my own fears
But the tears you've she'd
They don't make sense
They don't make sense

Because we've locked
Ourselves into
A selfish box
Just me and you
We're so naiv
We couldn't achieve
The plans we have
There is no air to breath

A thousand pictures all over my floor
No regrets, my body's numb
I wonder what we've become
The tears you've she'd
Yes, they do make sense
Now they do make sense

Because we've locked
Ourselves into
A selfish box
Just you and me
We're so naiv
We couldn't achieve
The plans we've had
There is no air to breath
