There are secrets buried inside
That you ought to know
That you need to know

Just another time that we don't share
It's an hour long,
but we don't care

Just another town
we're passing through It's of no concern
to me and you

Do you really want to know what I think
Do you really want me to show what I know

Do you really want to know what I think

Do you really want to know what I think
Do you really want me to show what I know
Do you really want to know what I think

There are secrets buried inside
That you ought to know
That you need to know

Just another town
we're passing through
It's of no concern
to me and you

Do you really want to know what I think
Do you really want me to show what I know

Do you really want to know what I think

Do you really want to know what I think
Do you really want me to show what I know
Do you really want to know what I think (x3)
