The sweet smell of ocean breeze took my breath away I watched the leaves hit the ground leaving there drunken dance behind

I never thought about taking this route before I'm just dragging my feet watching the scenery pass by It's amazing what you'll find when stop and start looking around
If you look real hard you might just find yourself again

I'd new I'd find my way back to you again
I'd new I'd find my way back to you again

We fall down and stare at the clouds rolling right by us trying to make a bit of sense in this crazy world is kinda like bottling sunshine
They all thought we were crazy running with the sprinklers on You'd knew and I knew that our love could never go wrong

I cannot abandon the feeling im feeling for you I cannot turn away and run.....no
If you look real hard you might just find yourself again

I'd new I'd find my way back to you again
I'd new I'd find my way back to you again
If i looked hard enough if I want far enough I'd new i would find my back home again
I'd new I'd find my way back to you again
I'd new I'd fine my way right back here
If you look real hard you might just find yourself again
In my arms right back, right back where you belong
