

The Statler Brothers

"Somebody New Will Be Coming Along"

Visit "Somebody New Will Be Coming Along" on MotoLyrics.com

Somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along
Before the last one is good and gone
Somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along

You know I've been married a time or two
Well, I've heard it said that this is true
And who knows I might do it again
Which brings to mind something my friend

I've had women trouble before
I know what you mean don't say no more
And I could use some advice
But take it from the man who's done it twice

Somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along
Before the last one is good and gone
Somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along

Well, I think about leaving every day
But something always gets in your way
I've tried to go a thousand times
You've got ways of changing your mind

If I let her world fall all apart
And I think she'd die of a broken heart
Without me what would she do
My friend don't let them worry you

'Cause somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along
Before the last one is good and gone
Somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along
Somebody new will be coming along

Visit The Statler Brothers page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

