She's got the look of an angel in love
She's got the face dreams are made of
You may get lost in the magic of her eyes
She's a walking heartache in disguise
She's a walking heartache in disguise
She's nothing more than a memory
In time I'm sure I'll forget
I'll get rid of that memory
But I haven't yet.
She'll outshine the stars on a moonlit night
She'll make you think everything's alright
You can't read her mind by looking in her eyes
She's a walking heartache in disguise
She's a walking heartache in disguise
She's got the look of an angel in love
She's got the face dreams are made of
You may get lost in the magic of her eyes
She's a walking heartache in disguise
She's a walking heartache in disguise
