I was okay for a while
And all I did, was spam one button
Arcane Blast and it was over
The mobs were dead and I felt empty

My spec, it was strong
But my hands were far too weak
To spam one thing
Without scrapping my pinkie

But there's a spec I have
That I never knew, never knew
Working for so long
Never had a clue, had a clue
All the raids I've been
Fire mages would always win

So I went Fire on my mage
I threw mobs into my flames
Well, they burned while I smiled
As the flames ran wild across the ground, the ground

When I scorch I run
I know why it's such fun
Fire Blast, in your face
Slow Fall, Fireball, nothing is better

But there's a spec I have
That I never knew, never knew
Working for so long
Never had a clue, had a clue
All the raids I've been
Fire mages would always win

So I went Fire on my mage
I threw mobs into my flames

Well, they burned while I smiled
As the flames ran wild across the ground, the ground

I went Fire on my mage
And I threw mobs into the flames
Well, they burned while I smiled
As the flames ran wild across the ground, the ground

Sometimes I remember Arcane
Spamming one key was hard back in the day
Even now when I'm throwing my flames
I can't help myself from thinking about Arcane

So I went Fire on my mage
I threw mobs into my flames
Well, they burned while I smiled
As the flames ran wild across the ground, the ground

I went Fire on my mage
And I threw mobs into the flames
Well, they burned while I smiled
As the flames ran wild across the ground, the ground

Let it burn
Let it burn
Let it burn
