Let's turn it up, the fire's out
We'll make our own
Our bodies slowly kissing the ground
I wouldn't stop for anyone but you and her
You've got me spinnin' round and around
We aim to please but we fell short
Don't stop because I'm crumbling
I'm on my knees, I won't give up
You said it wouldn't come to this
You said it would be easier to breathe
You said it shouldn't come to this
But you won't die if it does Can't you feel the walls split from the ceiling?
An arbitrary argument, believe you me
I've had the worst of all your offers
Your offers infiltrate my heart like a disease
You'll find a way to breathe out
You won't keep holding it in I'll take my lungs with or without your lesson, lose or win
Every second of my meaningless life is leading up to the moment
To push your button
Every step you take, while running away
Is another chance to turn and face it
Do you wanna stay and watch me crumble?
I'm on my knees, I won't give up
