The things in life don't give us too much hope you've lost your appetite and your sick and tired maybe what you need is some food for your eyes to make them rise

don't tell me how to tell the truth you're like a store that only sells guns and knives tell me how to make something beautiful flesh before your eyes
and make them rise
and make them rise
and make them rise
and make them rise

and make them rise
and make them rise
it only costs a buck for three tries but money never buys enough of anything i'm a moving target trying to shake some lead from your eyes

and make you rise
and make you rise
and make you rise
and make you rise

and make you rise
and make you rise
and make you rise
and make you rise
