No one said this would be easy, easy
And no one said that you werent right, right
You always stop to think about the way things were
But whats good is gone
And nows your time to try and run away

The last time you ran away
You said youd be back again
Its the last time youd run away
Youre never going back to him, no

You lose yourself into your mirror, its clearer
You use your make up to cover up your life
You always stop to think about the way things were
But whats good is gone
And nows your time to try and run away

Last time you ran away
You said youd be back again
Its the last time youd run away
Youre never going back to him, no

Cuz the pressures got you
And you cant fight, fight no more
Cuz the pressures got you
And you cant fight, fight

Its the last time, the last time
The last time you ran away
You said youd be back again
The last time youd run away
Youre never going back to him, no

The last time you ran away
You said youd be back again
The last time youd run away
Youre never going back to him, no
