I awake in my cold coffin
As I enter the spheres of eath
I was sent before centuries
To take their blood and send them death

I'm the ambassador of the apocalypse
I know the secrets above and below
I'm almighty but there's a thirst
Of blood in me that endless grows

My work shall begin / on my face an agonizing grin
I retrieve my only sin / my victims get pale and thin

Bloodthirst!

Now it's time for a new race to come
Humanity has failed all in all
Their wine of life will get me some
Of that they lost by their false moral

Their raging power of mind
Gains it's might by the red blood
That I'll carry through time and space
This essence will be used good...

And now ...die!

My work shall begin / on my face an agonizing grin
I retrieve my only sin / my victims get pale and thin

Bloodthirst!
And now ...die!
