Steal away from life with me to a place that's hidden to all but me I find the way to a place in my brain genetic shapes on the DNA chain I fly down the hall like a runaway train reality warps as I near insane hypnotic trance in the path it lay pick it up it shoots sparkling rays the trip returns again returns again again the trip never ends no evolution reversed I go back through lives awed by lives I am there as earth begins before mans time and the dawn of sin the cosmic primordial soup I exist within it all is no past is no future existence shall be my only tutor my dream starts again the life tree reigns knowledge is second life grows strong the dream lifts the sleep from my eyes the dream of ascension was real images fade when I sleep why are we so was the waking not real
