Selwyn D. Brown

I gave my pledge to you
And I never forget
The good times and the bad times
And even some regrets

Time has passed and we both knew
That there comes a time to change
And tough we're not together
Our love it still remains

So don't be afraid to say
What you need to tell me
'Cause maybe it's love that will work
This time around
It's easy for you to see

I lay my head on your shoulder
And my heart skips a beat
We've got to find love and make it last
Don't you know...
Don't think about defeat

So don't be afraid to try
Because it's a game where the strong
Do have to dwell
And maybe you'll find yourself
The future's waiting... who can tell
The future's waiting... who can tell
The future's waiting... who can tell

So don't be afraid to try
Because it's a game... where the strong
Do have to dwell
And maybe you'll find yourself
The future's waiting... who can tell

She me love, this yah feeling
Said this love, it's appealing
She me treasure this yah loving feeling

Seh me love, this yah feeling
Said this love, it's appealing
And it's gonna stay with me

Stick around
Settle down
You and me together
Love can be found
