

Steely Dan

"You Go Where I Go"

Visit "You Go Where I Go" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm about to cry and I don't know the reason
I can see the start of a difficult season
I can't let it get me down when everything is going wrong
Ain't it good to know that I can be strong?

Darling as long as you go where I go
I can't complain about the pain and the heartache*
The tears when your kisses disguise the lies
My eyes don't see
And what do I need to know
As long as you go where I go?

Wake up in the morning where the bad news can't find me

Walking in the sunshine with you right behind me
This lazy living sure treats me right, but come tomorrow we'll be gone
And anywhere at all is where I belong

Darling as long as you go where I go
I'm unaware of the cares and the sorrow
The hurt that your loving can hide from me
My eyes don't see
And what do I need to know
As long as you go where I go?

Visit Steely Dan page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.