I lived all alone in my furnished room and looked for a friend to break away the gloom when a man offered me a kind of human machine it was the best I'd ever seen.

My friends were afraid for that man of steel I said don't you worry his love is real he's sweet he's nice he's never sad he's the best I've ever had
he's the best I've ever had.

The robot
the robot
I love that lovely robot he walks and talks and wheels and deals he is the best there is the robot
the robot

to move and groove romance and dance
he can even kiss.

Your humble servant

your robot is speaking whatever you wish

I'll obey.

The robot
the robot.

My friend of steel has has a heart of gold more than that he will never grow old atomic batteries will keep him fine he is the best and he is mine.

We went to a party the other night it sure was fun with that man by my side he wiggled and he danced like a disco-star you are the best that's what you are.

the robot
I love that lovely robot
