Sometimes I can't sleep
Millon things are running trough my brain

There's too many excuses instead of what truth is fammi dire...

I've heard the world can say a lot but i know I can stand all deaf in here my ears ring and I realize...

Sometimes I'm just trying to get so far away from here

Trying to find some wisdom
that I hope that I can use

And the light that shines before us
Is looking brighter than the sun

Time is not my enemy my friend
but let it be again...

Every day our last chance do that parades and all the world is due scared of simple conversation unaware it's not me that you're fighting just hold me...

...so I breathe again!
Believe the sound of thunder is just a never ending kiss

We hold on to forever so there's nothing I will miss

Try to get it just try like we've never seen before

Time will be my enemy again

so let it be again

Love is the key to be who you are... to change what you can and leave the rest of it...

Sometimes I'm just trying

Trying to find some wisdom
that I hope that I can use

And the light that shines before us

but let it be again...
