Girl, who the hell confused ya
I gave you my world, my live, my love
Still you complain you's a loser
If nothing I do is good enough girl,
Then you's a plain abuser
And I can't handle this I wanna carry on but I don't really know if I'm the man for this
You scandalous and hopeless
You blur my focus
I bought you the moon and gave you the stars
And ya didn't even notice
You know you're fine, but you just waste my time Cause all you want is cars, Venus versus Mars (Mars, Mars, ..)

You touch is so electrifying, your beauty's out of place
Your lips are so conspicuous I gotta have a taste
And you reflect the sunshine, it's all upon your face Your love just got me feeling like I'm floating out of space

I wanna share the wealth with you, living amongst the stars
'Cause you deserve a real man, I've been faithful from the start
Let nothing come between us babe, your chemistry is genius
I meant to leave from Mars, you meant to leave from Venus

Say women from Venus, and men think with their wieners
And women love cars, but they belong to Mars
But if they belonged to Venus, would Venus give us cars
Don't let nothing come between us, not even the stars

So we can rule the universe, the galaxy is ours
The Milky way to Pluto, catching feelings baby, you know

You deserve applause, before the next recession
I gotta buy you love, cause you deserve affection

Your touch is so electrifying, your beauty's out of place
Your lips are so conspicuous I gotta have a taste
And you reflect the sunshine, it's all upon your face
Your love just got me feeling like I'm floating out of

I wanna share the wealth with you, living amongst the
stars
'Cause you deserve a real man, I've been faithful from
the start
Let nothing come between us babe, your chemistry is
genius
I meant to leave from Mars, you meant to leave from Venus
