Everyone's falling in love, but you stay alone feeling like you were ever.. I just never go [?] you just keep on running from the love you had and your heart keeps on aching: makes you feel so sad so sad, so blue

Maybe one day you will wake up and you'll find your own way you will see things you ain't never seen and it will change your life, oh baby

Maybe one day you will realize the things that you say you will live in a special way, troubles just far away from you

In your life there's a moment that you're waiting for It is called: magic moment never had before.

Maybe one day you will wake up and you'll find your own way you will try things you've never tried
and it will change your life, oh baby Maybe one day, maybe now, maybe one of these days, I just don't know how

Maybe one day you will wake up and you'll find your own way you will see things that you ain't never seen never seen in your life

Maybe one day you will realize the things that you say
you will try things you've never tried never tried in your life.

Day after day, you keep on spending your life you don't even know what you're really doing Night after night, you keep on spending your life you don't even know who you're really loving now

Maybe one day you will wake up and you'll find your own way
you will see things that you ain't never seen
never seen in your life

Maybe one day you will realize the things that you say
you will try things you've never tried
never tried in your life.

Day after day..
