I remember the island
There's a tale to spin of the water wheel
Snap of a conger eel
A triangular canvas in a sea of green
Translucent Man O' War
staring to the shore
Roller coaster rides, a wish on the fairy bridge When lightning almost struck, we kicked the rock for luck

I remember the ferry ride
I remember the night she died
All scenes from a play we see Plainly slipped out of the blue into the black

I remember the island, but we can't go back Willow.
