As sure as a phoenix sunrise
And the yanks in the playoffs every year
You're absolutely faithful
I'm positively prone to disappear
But like I breathe and my heart beats

I wanna love You like it's automatic
Make You into my good habit
You're the only one that really matters
Every minute, everyday it's automatically okay
When I make it all about You

It's a mixed up, messed up world
With an unsatisfaction guarantee
So I'm pledging my allegiance
To the one and only one who can set me free
Just like I breathe and my heart beats

I wanna love You like it's automatic
Make You into my good habit

You're the only one that really matters
Every minute, everyday it's automatically okay
When I make it all about You

But I'm not a robot made with no thought
What's the point of living life without the will to choose
To run with the have-nots or go with the sure shot
I'm with You

I wanna love You like it's automatic
Make You into my good habit
You're the only one that really matters

Love You like it's automatic
Tired of being so erratic
You're the only one that really matters
Every minute, everyday it's automatically okay
Every minute, everyday it's automatically okay
When I make it all about You

Gonna make it all about You
